party were then in the church in which were other guests.

The single ring ceremony was used and the word "obey" was not included in the service.

Dr. President and Mrs. Coolidge arrived at the church shortly before the ceremony and were seated on one of the front pews near the Trumbull family.

OLD IVORY SATIN GOWN

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father to the music of the bridal chorus from Lohengrin. She wore a gown of old ivory satin made in princess design. Her veil was of old ivory tulle, trimmed with duchess lace and her hair was occasion by Mrs. Coolidge. She carried a bouquet of white lilies, but a daisy and a daisy she had since a little girl.

She was preceded by four bridesmaids and her sister, Miss Jean Trumbull, who sat at her right.

Stephen Brown of Northampton, Mass., acted as John Coolidge's best man. Both the groom and his attendant were conventional after the usual custom.

Hundreds of giant chrysanthemums were brought from California for use together with the pom-poms, amaranths and palms for the decoration of the church.

Tall bronze candelabra holding sheets of the chrysanthemums were placed along the aisle and scores of the great blooms were banded in the chancel along balcony. Masses of pom-poms, roses, palms and ferns screened the organ and decorated the chancel.

The large delegation of newspaper men and photographers who had gathered for the event today were excluded from the church, in keeping with the desire of the bride's father to make the wedding a quiet family affair.

"OH, PROMISE ME" MARCH

A half hour musical program will be given while the guests are assembled. The Prelude to Lohengrin and Elsie's Bridal Procession, both by Wagner, and the Bach Wedding March will be played on the pipe organ by Prof. William Hammond of the Trinity church, College from which the bride was graduated a few days ago.

Just before the wedding march "Oh, Promise Me," by Reginald de Krom, to be played by Prof. Hammond and Emil Heidegger, Hartford violinist, and the orchestra, to the music of which Miss Trumbull has chosen to dance.

Her sister, Miss Jean Trumbull, who attended her as maid of honor, was crowned in a tiara of Capucine. Missie also made in princess effect with a slight train and finished with a bertha of imported lace and embroidered in gold.

The four bridesmaids wore gowns of amber chiffon reflecting the general yellow and burnt orange color scheme of the wedding.

The maid of honor's bouquet was of Goshute roses, and one of the other bridesmaids wore a bouquet of garden variety roses. The bridesmaids, tied with bows of chiffon to match their gowns.

RECEPTION ON LAWN

The bride's attendants besides Miss Jean Trumbull, were Miss Dorothy Clark of Plainville, cousin of the bride; Miss Virginia Rogers, sister of the bride; and Mrs. Philip Morehouse of Boston.

Mrs. Morehouse, before her recent marriage, was Theodora Davis of Boston. She was a college mate of the bride who, with young Coolidge, was a weekend guest at her parents' home during the summer.

The usherers are Pierce Clark of Plainville, and Richard Brown, Jr., of Boston. The bridesmaids are Misses Jean Trumbull, Dorothy Clark, Virginia Rogers, and Mrs. Philip Morehouse.

The reception following the ceremony was held at the home of the bride, Miss Jean Trumbull, where were seated on the grounds, where the daisies were served to the guests in the garden. The bride and groom received the guests in the garden, where the daisies were served to the guests in the garden.

The wedding cake, which was cut by the bride, was a three-tiered affair, coated with white frosting. It was topped by a silver angel, a token of the bride and groom's future in aviation. Occupying the center of the bride's table, at the head of the circle of lilies of the valley and carnations.

All the police of this little Newness Trumbull.

Boston Society News and Gossip

Harriet Thayer Mason to Wed Dr. Trygve Gundersen Next Spring.

A SPRING WEDDING DAY will be chosen by Miss Harriet Thayer Mason, whose engagement to Dr. Trygve Gundersen of La Crosse, Wis., has just been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Mason of Exeter st. Miss Mason is a popular member of the Junior League and of the Vincent Club. She made her debut during the season of 1925-26. On her maternal side she is the great-granddaughter of Governor Andrew. Dr. Gundersen is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Adolph Gundersen of La Crosse, Wis. He is a graduate of the Harvard Medical school. The wedding date has not been set beyond the announcement that it will be solemnized next spring.

ON NEXT WEDNESDAY evening Mrs. Charles W. Gammons is opening her home on Highland ave., Cohasset, for a lecture-recital by John Orth, renowned as a pupil of Liszt, the great master. The affair is being given in aid of the First Parish church at Cohasset and Mrs. Frank R. Pegram has charge of the tickets. Among the subscribers are Mrs. Alexander Bigelow, Jr., Mrs. Howard Key Bartow, Mrs. William H. Brown, Mrs. T. Frederick Stoddard, Mrs. Minerva Stone, Mrs. A. M. Seaver, Mrs. Russell Tower, Mrs. Ralph Menard, Mrs. Oliver H. Howe, Mrs. George T. Vedeler and several others. Mrs. Gammons concluded her visit in the White Mountains to prepare for this event which will interest the entire Cohasset colony.

THE BEGINNING OF the social whirl for the buds who will bloom in society's garden this season will be the large dance for Miss Jane Stevens at the Evening at the Essex County Club next Saturday evening, given by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fowling of Wyndhurst, Manchester, and Boston and the brilliant dinner party for Miss Lella Stevens given by Mrs. Augustus Goodwin of Brookline, Hamilton. Both will be smart affairs occurring on the same evening. This illustrates the problem of the date this season when they will have to choose between three or four affairs every day from then on until the holidays, for the number of parties already planned forecasts the busiest season for many years. Miss Stevens is to be formally presented at a large luncheon given on next Sunday by her mother, Mrs. John H. Stevens, at Brick House, Manchester.

MANY MEMBERS OF SOCIETY who have spent the summer at distant points are domiciled at the Ritz-Carlton, while their town houses are being opened and made ready for winter occupancy. Among these are Mr. and Mrs. Alfred McIntyre of Beacon st., Mrs. Louis Chauvenet and family of Chestnut st., Mrs. Percy Chase, who spends much of her time in Paris, and Mr. and Mrs. Sidney J. Colford (Elizabeth Oakes). The North Shore set is rapidly disappearing and removing to winter residences. The Ralph Pops came up today from Manchester to their Brookline home, and Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Wheeler will have the shutters of their Manchester home closed tomorrow, when they return to their Marlborough st. home. Others who will be at their Boston

Mrs. Frederick Ayer Maj. George S. Patton, Jr.
Mrs. Frederick Ayer and Maj. George S. Patton, Jr., of Hamilton served as judges at the Groton Hunt Club horse show and received much praise for their excellent judgment in picking the winners from the many fine horses shown. Mrs. Ayer is often admitted in the saddle, where she is perfectly at home.

Plan Rummage Sale for Hospital Fund at Beverly on October 5

The Shore and are at their Milton home, and Mrs. John L. Grinnell and her daughter, Miss Isabella, have deserted their summer home on the Cape for the fall season at Groton.

WINTER PLANS OF MANY of the post-debutante set include studies abroad and college courses here. Among those who are to study in Europe is Miss Beatrice Clough of Beacon st., who chose a course at Oxford in England. Miss Carol Smith of Cambridge is another post-deb now in Paris with her mother, Mrs. Ernest E. Smith of Ash st., who will remain there for study. Miss Betty Sherman, who made her debut two seasons ago and who has been in Europe a year, is to remain there to finish her course in several cultural branches.

AN INTERESTING TRAVEL chronicle finds Boston society both setting sail for foreign shores and returning today from various points on the compass. Mr. and Mrs. Edward de Stret (Helen Lodge) are enroute to Europe on their honeymoon, and Miss Charlotte C. Lyman will land in France Friday for a fall sojourn. Arriving today at New York on the Atlantic transport Minneapolis are Miss Elizabeth Bigelow of Concord and Mrs. James Randall Fuller of Boston. Mrs. Harold G. Cutler, Burton Cutler, Miss Dorothy M. Preston and Richard Preston are at the St. Regis in New York. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gilbert of Ware are at the Berkshire in that city and Mrs. James Purdon of Milton is at the Weylin. California will be the winter residence of Mr. Mrs. Theodore Frothingham, Jr., who are leaving with their children for Santa Barbara this week.

MRS. LLOYD NICHOLS HAS charge of the final event on the North Shore in aid of the Beverly Hospital fund. She is chairman of the ways and means committee, which is having a rummage sale on Saturday, October 5, on Cabot st., Beverly, for the benefit of the hospital, and is busily soliciting valuable articles of all kinds for the sale. A number of debutantes will assist, acting as sales-girls for the affair.

RUSSIA TURNED THEM 'COLD'

Eythorath, Kent, Eng., Sept. 23 (AP)—Two English coal miners, W. Roome and J. Crane, who recently visited Soviet Russia, at the expense of their employer, Tilden Smith, owner of the Tildenstone colliery, near Dover, have returned home with such harrowing tales that none of their fellow workers would accept free trips to Moscow. Addressing crowds at Smith's home, Roome and Crane said their experiences turned them cold. "My friend Crane cursed the Soviets for hypocrisy," said Roome. "He intended this," said Roome. "We have seen things we should not have seen."

When the mine owner offered to pay the passage of any of his workers to Russia, but not home again, there was no response.

Women Using More Dresses Than Ever

KEITH-ALBEE HOST TO STARS

Photoplay: "Lucky Star"
Type: Comedy Drama
Cast: Keith-Albee
Theater: Keith-Albee

By HARLISH SCHULTZ

TWO mighty good reasons why stand out to explain why this week should prove a banner period for the Keith-Albee.

First, the fact that the Keith-Albee is a master screen and stage company, and second, the fact that the Keith-Albee is a master screen and stage company.

CHARLES FARRELL. BAY STATE'S contribution to the silver screen is making personal appearances at the Keith-Albee, where "Lucky Star" is current.

"4 FEATHERS" IS PUBX FEATURE. ACTION, adventure, thrills and spectacles are all found in "The Four Feathers."

YOUNG Mr. Murray is regarded as one of the most brilliant of Hollywood. Every one knows how swiftly he has risen to the heights.

THERE'S a fine little "moff" running through it all. It is the things we create recall us. The locale is supposed to be "Down East," though it could just as easily be the Tennessee mountains, or the Ozarks.

THE play is wholesome clean and enjoyable; there are gripping moments, too. Photography is excellent, and in the direction, as it is almost certain to be in the hands of Frank Borzage.

OWN stage. Murray is a whole soul in himself. We wouldn't have missed him for anything. He presides with a skill, "Buddy" from Hollywood. He is himself, which is all any man could wish in the way of delightful fun. There are other splendid acts, too, all in all, a tip-top show.

Kaufman Undergoes Operation on Nose. Irving Kaufman, who announced last week the rehearsal of his new musical comedy, "How Come," this coming week, has been forced to postpone the rehearsals again, due to an operation on his nose.

Downey Returns to U. S. Tomorrow. Morton Downey and his wife, the former Barbara Bennett, are returning to this country on the S. S. America tomorrow.

THE play is wholesome clean and enjoyable; there are gripping moments, too. Photography is excellent, and in the direction, as it is almost certain to be in the hands of Frank Borzage.

OWN stage. Murray is a whole soul in himself. We wouldn't have missed him for anything. He presides with a skill, "Buddy" from Hollywood. He is himself, which is all any man could wish in the way of delightful fun. There are other splendid acts, too, all in all, a tip-top show.

Kaufman Undergoes Operation on Nose. Irving Kaufman, who announced last week the rehearsal of his new musical comedy, "How Come," this coming week, has been forced to postpone the rehearsals again, due to an operation on his nose.

WORLD CONTROL OF NARCOTICS IS ASSURED

(As a member of the British delegation of the 10th Assembly of the League of Nations, the author of the following article proposed and secured adoption of a resolution for the direct limitation of the manufacture of narcotics by international agreement, regarded as marking the turning point in the fight against the drug scourge.)

by PROF. PHILIP J. NOEL

Geneva, Switzerland, Sept. 23.—Effective international action for the direct limitation of the production of morphine, heroin, cocaine and other dangerous drugs seems now assured for the world.

In one of the most important resolutions ever placed before the League of Nations, it has just been agreed that further steps be taken without delay to limit the manufacture of these drugs strictly to the amount required for medical and scientific purposes.

There is to be summoned a conference of manufacturing and representative countries to formulate an agreement as to the total amount of these drugs to be manufactured annually and as to the quota that amount to be manufactured by each country.

To LIMIT PRODUCTION The principle for which Great Britain stands is that everything having to do with the drug traffic and manufacture of drugs is of general interest, not only to the manufacturing countries but to the countries which are victims of the traffic. We therefore proposed international action by the governments, which could achieve immediate results.

Broadly speaking, the coming conference will have to settle two things:

1.—The total of world production to be permitted in the future.

2.—The division of this total amount among the manufacturing countries.

CAUSES OF "FAILURE."

The results achieved by the proposed conference will be preliminary and not final. The agreement reached will be the introduction of a new and wider agreement, covering the whole problem for instance, the springing of new factories in countries not now manufacturers of dangerous drugs.

It will fall within the competence of the League's permanent committee on opium and other dangerous drugs to study the measures of general interest which will still remain unsettled after the conclusion of the conference, and to make the necessary arrangements for the output of the manufacturing countries of today.

Germes imprisoned on teeth cause decay

GERMES cause tooth decay. Germs plus tartar are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Virtually every common disease of teeth and gums results from germ infections. There is but one way known to fight germs and safeguard teeth and gums. You must remove a filthy, slimy, slimy mass that lives between the teeth's enamel. Film forms in crevices and clings so tenaciously that ordinary brushing fails to remove it successfully.

Mystery Death

A criminologist and two doctors are investigating the mysterious death of Edith Irene Wolfkill, eccentric heiress to $800,000, whose body was found last week near her California ranch after disappearing July 14 last. (I.N.R. photo.)

PROBE DEATH OF HEIRESS

Patridge, Calif., Sept. 23.—County officials here called on science to aid in unraveling the death mystery of Miss Edith Irene Wolfkill, eccentric heiress to an $800,000 estate.

Miss Wolfkill's body was found last week a few miles from her ranch, at a spot which had been traversed at least 50 times by traveling posse since the woman's disappearance was reported July 14.

Three experts arrived here to study the cause of Miss Wolfkill's death. They are Dr. A. B. Berger, chief medical examiner at San Francisco; Dr. A. N. Moody, director of pathology for the San Francisco coroner and E. O. Heinicke, Berkeley, criminologist.

They and Miss Wolfkill's brothers and joint guardians of Miss Wolfkill, joined in charging their sister had been a victim of foul play.

4 'DOPE' JOINTS NEAR CAPITOL, SAYS BLEASE

Washington, Sept. 23 (AP).—An assertion that "four" narcotic joints are operating on Pennsylvania avenue, near the Capitol, and that this is known to "people whose duty it is to stop it" was made in the Senate today by Senator Blaise, Democrat, South Carolina.

Blaise made these statements while speaking in opposition to a committee amendment to the tariff bill to eliminate a House provision to extend the liability to owners of vessels for unmanifested smoking opium found on board.

Blaise said the cases of four persons suspected of narcotic law violation were presented to the grand jury last July and that no action had been taken.

There was reason to believe, he asserted, some higher up was protecting the joints, for, he said, the local authorities and federal enforcement agents were putting enforcement up to local officers.

Anti-Trust Laws in U. S. Failure, Claim

New York, Sept. 23.—Anti-trust legislation in the United States has failed. This conclusion has been reached by Samuel Untermyer, one of the most experienced of American lawyers in litigation between corporate interests and governmental authority.

Untermyer suggested the repeal of the Sherman anti-trust law and the passage of legislation designed to restrict combinations of capital in restraint of trade. He proposes to invest the federal trade commission with more authority to accomplish the ends in which legislation has failed.

In an address over WJZ Untermyer said:

"The courts, Congress and the executive departments of the government have participated with equal effectiveness in the blow that were struck at the anti-trust laws until they have been reduced to their present pitiable plight from which they never can hope to be rescued."

The Web-Porter act, which seeks to amend the anti-trust laws, has proven a potent shield to the most powerful combinations in restraint of home competition. Under its protection the powerful combinations are enabled to openly get together and agree on prices for their products, to control the market and to control the life of the nation and affecting millions of dollars and thousands of millions of dollars would plunge us into a veritable debacle that would shake the foundations of our prosperity."

Effective legislation and a vigorous and impartial enforcement of the law against the thousands of offenders, involving the most powerful men in the industrial and financial life of the nation and affecting millions of dollars and thousands of millions of dollars would plunge us into a veritable debacle that would shake the foundations of our prosperity."

GRANDPA GETS DIVORCE FROM YOUNG WIFE

Providence, Sept. 23.—Claiming to have found his attractive young wife vacationing in his summer home with another man, Benjamin R. Thurston, wealthy Providence manufacturer, obtained an uncontested divorce in superior court today.

Thurston, who had children and grandchildren by a first marriage, married for a second time, taking the wife from whom he freed himself today. More than 25 years younger than he, she was widely regarded as a beauty.

First public intimation of trouble in the Thurston family came when the husband petitioned the court to order Mrs. Thurston out of his summer cottage at East Warren.

Testimony then revealed the fact that, by consent, the Thurstons were living apart, pending divorce proceedings. The husband made his home at the Hillmore Hotel, his present residence. He made his wife a voluntary allowance of $250 a month.

According to depositions presented in support of Thurston's divorce petition today, his action to evict his wife from the East Warren cottage followed a surprise visit which he made to the place in company with private detectives.

Mrs. Thurston was discovered to be entertaining a friend, the court was told.

Crown Point, Ind., Sept. 23 (INS).—Charles Vellinek of South Bend, Ind., who died here today after his Pontiac special crashed into another automobile during the Hammond American Legion races at the fair grounds.

Vellinek's car, according to witnesses, was forced toward a wire fence by a car driven by Cyril Zook of Springfield, Ill. The South Bend pilot attempted to pass Zook and the machines collided. Zook was not injured.

Body of Marshall Comes Home to Rest

New York, Sept. 23 (AP).—The body of Louis Marshall, aged Jewish leader and philanthropist, who died in Zurich, Switzerland, Sept. 11, arrived today on the liner Leviathan.

Mayor Walker, Police Commissioner Walker and Adolph S. Ochs, New York publisher, were among those at the pier as the flag-draped casket was borne ashore.

Justice Speeds Up In Maine Rum Case

Portland, Me., Sept. 23 (AP).—It took just 30 minutes for trial, conviction by a jury and sentencing of John F. Kelly in superior court today, on a charge of possessing liquor.

The 30 minutes were apportioned as follows: Trial 10; consideration by jury, less than 5; time lost on other court matters which delayed the jury's return, 10; sentence, 5.

Justice Chapman sentenced Kelly to 10 months in jail and fined him $100. An appeal was taken.

Refused a Seat, He Shoots Up Theater

Chicago, Sept. 23 (INS).—Samuel Baricco, 40, was under arrest here today after shooting up the Little White Way theater to avenge refusal of a seat on the stage.

Wins Recipe Prize

AMONG the hundreds of excellent recipes received during the week ending September 7, in the 55 weekly recipe prize contest, the Chocolate Ice Cream Cake sent by Mrs. Katherine McGovern of 11 North St., Haverhill, Mass., has been judged the winner.

It is novel, delicious and not too difficult, and we think you will enjoy making these Chocolate Ice Cream Cakes as much as we did. We are only sorry that there is not a prize for everyone, but that's the hard part of every contest. However, there are many weeks ahead, so hunt up your favorite recipes, using one or more food products advertised in this paper, and the Boston Sunday Advertiser will send them along to Martha Lee, at 5 Winthrop sq.

Mrs. McGovern, as you see, first makes Chocolate Cup Cakes by an excellent recipe, baking them in a moderate oven. The tops are cut off and the cakes made up as desired, leaving space enough for a scoop of ice cream. Mrs. McGovern doesn't say what she does with the cake crumbs, but I'd suggest a very nice little cake crumb pudding, the recipe for which I'll be glad to send to anyone who cares to have it.

While the cup cakes are baking, I imagine Mrs. McGovern makes her chocolate sauce that is poured over the ice cream and, I think, that it will have a chance to cool before serving. This recipe, too, is excellent, and the entire combination of cup cakes, ice cream and sauce should make a most satisfactory ending to any Sunday or company dinner. It's a nice and gossamer for bridge luncheons and supper, too, don't you think?

THOSE STUBBORN STAINS

THAT REFUSE TO BUDGE from enamel stoves, porcelain sinks and tables, vanish immediately with one application of the finest product I've ever seen. We depend on it to keep all enamel surfaces shining in the Martha Lee Kitchen. With Little Labor. Will keep your precious enamel gas range like new forever and aye. 50c.

SILVER-COLORED cooking utensils are new and interesting. Easy to clean as china or glass. Finish does not stain or wear off. Cannot corrode or rust. Let me tell you about this introductory offer.

BRAND NEW and smacking good is a certain brand of milk-fed whole chicken, raised and tested in its own jelly, in sanitary container. 55c a pound (about three pounds to a can). Ready to serve sliced cold or heated and the jelly used as basis for gravy, in salad or for chicken king.

SPEAKING OF WHICH reminds me that another luscious ready-to-heat-and-eat chicken product is a chicken a la king at 55c a can. Just waiting to be heated and served on toast points, in little shells, timbales, or what-have-you. A timely tip for the bridge hostess.

AND ANOTHER—those tramp sugar tablets—beats, clubs, spades, etc., at 10c a package. The pride and joy of up-to-the-minute hostesses. (I told you about the tramp cookies, too, didn't I?)

NOT AN OUNCE OF LOBSTER or a single clam used in a certain restaurant specializing in fish did not come in alive in its own shell. The best of everything. Amidst courtesy and hospitality. Special luncheons, 65c to 90c.

LIGHT AND LUSCIOUS are some specially dainty new cookies. Square, slightly sweetened. Delicately browned. With a sprinkling of luscious coconut in their crunchy crispness. 25c a pound and scores in a pound.

SISTER TO THEM are new kitchen cookies. But dainty enough for the parlor. Especially to serve with ginger ale and other beverages. Wholesome for children. A favorite with father. 25c a pound.

A THIN 2c STAMP, with this column clipped and checked, and that necessary name and address, will bring prompt information on one or all these items.

Faithfully yours,

Martha Lee

Here Is the Prize-Winning Ice Cream Cake Recipe

Chocolate Ice Cream Cake
1 cup butter
1/2 cup Domino Sugar
1/2 cup Hot's Milk
2 eggs
1 square Hershey's Chocolate
1 cup Cornstarch Flour
1 cup baking powder
1 tsp. vanilla

Cream butter, add the sugar slowly, then add beaten egg yolks; melt the chocolate and add flour and baking powder; fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in greased muffin pans. Before serving take top cakes off, leaving space enough for a scoop of Frey's Ice Cream. Pour the following chocolate sauce over all.

1 1/2 cups Domino Sugar
1/2 cup water
4 squares Hershey's Chocolate
1 tsp. vanilla
1/2 cup sugar and water boil in a saucepan for five minutes. Cool partly and stir in chocolate; add vanilla. Place in a double boiler until ready to serve.

NEW ENGLAND DAIRY AND FOOD COUNCIL

Night Class Is Filled

THE Tuesday evening cooking class of the Martha Lee School of Practical Cookery is full to overflowing, and we regret that no further registrations can be accepted. We especially regret that so many applications already received cannot be accommodated, but these we are going to place on a waiting list in case there are any vacancies later and, if not, they will have first chance in the next group of evening lessons which will open in January.

As it is, we are afraid the first class of two will be pretty crowded, as in our effort to accommodate every one, we have accepted a few more than our original quota of 25. However, past experience shows that through various circumstances a few do necessarily drop out so that the slightly crowded condition which almost always exists on the first two lessons corrects itself as the course goes on. There are still about 25 vacancies in the Wednesday afternoon classes, for which we shall be glad to receive enrollments. The evening class opens on Tuesday, October 8, at 6:30 p. m. (doors open at 6 p. m.) and the Wednesday afternoon class commencing Wednesday, October 9, (doors open at 1:30 p. m.).

These demonstration lectures by Martha Lee are offered through the courtesy of the Boston Evening American and the Sunday Advertiser without charge of any kind.

Beachmont Club Whist

A whist party is scheduled to be held in the clubhouse of the Beachmont Club on Monday afternoon, October 7, in aid of the Beachmont Women's Catholic Club. Mrs. Theresa Walsh is chairman of the committee arranging a program of novelties.

3rd Annual Cooking Class Opens Sept. 30 at Statler

HERE is the good news you've been waiting for. The Third Annual Martha Lee Cooking School, in the Hotel Statler, will open on Monday, September 30th, and will continue through Thursday, September 30th, October 1, 2 and 3. Our lecturer will be the same Mrs. Lilia P. Cross, whom we all so much enjoyed last year.

These two sentences tell the story to the friends already acquainted with the Annual Martha Lee Statler School, and we are very sure that each and every one of them will be "among those present."

To our new friends, we want to say that this four-day school, without charge, through the courtesy of the Boston Evening American and the Sunday Advertiser to the readers of these papers, is an event that no progressive housewife can afford to miss.

Many years of experience, both in running her own home and as an educator and lecturer before hundreds of women's organizations, have given Mrs. Cross a great fund of practical ideas for the housewife.

Problems of marketing, budgeting, time and labor-saving utensils and equipment, menu planning, diets and child feeding will be authoritatively discussed. Many new and interesting recipes will be prepared and demonstrated each day, and are sure to be enjoyed by any housewife anxious to get out of the rut of every day cooking.

The classes open at 2 o'clock. (The doors of the grand ball room of the Statler will be opened at 1 o'clock to accommodate those who wish to come early to secure front seats.) No tickets will be required. The Boston Evening American and Sunday Advertiser conducts this school solely for the pleasure and inspiration of the housewives of New England, and everybody will be welcomed to attend without obligation.

It is worth coming many a mile just to see the gorgeous Statler ball room sitting of our school, we think. In this splendid room, seating approximately 2000 people comfortably, some of Boston's most important social and business functions have been held and we are certain that in being able to have so beautiful a place in which to greet our guests.

The stage is as large as in many of our theaters. Richly curtained and brilliantly lighted, this stage is ideally adapted to the perfect presentation of the finest cooking school we believe Boston has ever seen. Special loud speaking devices make it possible for those in last rows to hear the slightest whisper perfectly, and the seating arrangements are such that all can see everything going on upon the stage, whether you sit in one of the boxes or in the "orchestra."

There is a special entrance to the grand ball room on the Columbus ave. side of the Hotel Statler, or it may be approached through the balcony of the Statler lobby.

The doors will be opened at 1 o'clock, as we have said, and there will be music to make the preliminary period pass enjoyably. There will be further daily announcements about the school in this paper, but I am sure you will not need a second invitation to be with us every single one of the four sessions.

Whist Series to Aid Revere Eagles Fund

A series of whist and bridge parties will be given for the benefit of the Revere Ladies Auxiliary charity and every Monday evening in the home of the Revere Aerie of Eagles, on Nahant ave. Revere, beginning today, Mrs. Eva Foley is chairman of the committee in charge of today's affair.

STATION

Many Features Are Listed by Boston and Distant Stations on Air

By BEST BROOKMAN

There was a time when the average radio listener viewed announcers, collectively if not individually, as a group of playboys on the counterpane of finale hope. To crash the staff of any of the major stations nowadays, announcers must have more than the veneer of culture and sangfroid. Floyd Judson Neale, Harvard '12, furnishes a good example. He is a quiet, capable, pleasant, open and vocal in Boston, New York, Munich and Rome. His business training includes such positions as confidential secretary to Charles E. Flint, "father of radio"; assistant to the late Col. George Harvey, ambassador to Great Britain; and staff work with the North American Review, the Financial Chronicle and New York Times. He is now an announcer at station WGB, Newark, N. J.

Doris Drollet, whose singing attracted the attention of E. J. Roth, and at a social function, will be heard for the first time on the air during this evening's broadcast by WGB. Drollet has an unique, cosmopolitan background. She was born in the South Sea Islands of a French father and Italian mother. He has had leading parts with the Opera Comique in Paris and has sung in grand opera at Naples and Milan. Since coming to America he has filled the principal roles with the Pennsylvania Opera Co.

Ramsay MacDonald, Labor premier of England for the second time, has proved a success and most popular experiment. What qualities of mental and physical stamina does he possess that have enabled him to overcome the opposition to his country's press for his World War pacifism, and then, on being called to high office, to triumphantly tackle the arduous duties that befall a British prime minister? William H. Crawford, his intimate friend, has written a story which has been dramatized for radio presentation. It will be broadcast to station WGBZ. The music for this hour reflects the varying moods of the great city of central Europe as well as its long musical history.

Compositions of the great song-poet will dominate the program. His exquisite "Serenade" will introduce the guest artist, James Lewis. The entire cast of "The Song of the Sea" will give the orchestra its most important opportunity, while the "March Militaire" will close the program, which is followed by "The Song of the Sea" and "The Song of the Sea".

FLAG WINNERS Men 2000 Years Ago 'Superior' to Present

Chicago, Sept. 23 (INS)—"Man has improved everything but himself. Agriculture, animal husbandry, transportation, aviation, illumination, radio, science, and mechanics in all their branches show remarkable advancement."

Yet eminent scientists have declared that the average free citizen of A.D. 2000 years ago was superior to the average member of the present day.

Unhappily by a drizzling rain, the boys and girls who won the first prize in the contest of the world trip in connection with the Flag Contest conducted by the United States Flag Association made a moist tour of the city.

They took in all of the spots of historical interest. Then they journeyed out to the field of the battle of Waterloo, where Napoleon's vast army was crushed by the forces of the British and their allies.

Today they will be the guests of the British and their allies. They will be the guests of the British and their allies. They will be the guests of the British and their allies.

100 Held in Berlin Riots

Berlin, Sept. 23 (AP)—One hundred persons, most of whom are Communist agitators, were under arrest today because of clashes between German Nationalists and Communists.

Belonging to the Mains Air Transport, the British Parliament today, on every hand we meet with evidence of the mental and physical deterioration of man, to such an extent as to be terrifying."

Such was the statement made here today by Dr. F. D. Rogers of Chicago before 75 delegates from 36 states attending the annual convention of the Auto-Immune Therapy Foundation.

"Biology and pathology are the avenues through which the causes of crime and insanity may finally be traced. The solution of these problems lies with the physician, and this nation must also undergo a great spiritual awakening."

"Falls and insane asylums are overcrowded. Crime, insanity and feeble-mindedness constitute the greatest problem of the American people today."

E. BUSINESS ACTIVITY AT NEW HIGH LEVEL

By FRED TOYE
WHERE the MacDonald sits, there is the head of the mob!

Maybe this claim will solve the social problems of this city. Iabel MacDonald, daughter of the British prime minister, during her coming American visit.

Mrs. Gann, as sister and hostess of the Vice-President, had hard work to dig up precedent to fit her table rights. The charming Scottish lass, however, has ample comfort in literature.

THE PRIDEFUL refusal of the B. to recognize any higher rank than his own is sometimes panned upon the MacDonalds. Ralph Waldo Emerson, in his "American Scholar," has it that it was the MacDonald who made the West. Theodore Parker quotes "Where the Highlander sits..."

OUR old friend Tom Quibodeau had much to say in regard to his own importance. This gentle and chivalrous soul took the question of rank seriously. He was able to squelch the mutterings of faithful Sancho Panza and let me sit at whatever I will, that will still be the upper floor and the place of worship to these.

THOSE who are in the know, say that in England, wives and daughters of cabinet officials have only such social honors as may be granted through the courtesy of the moment. When 23-year-old Iabel arrives with her dashing parent, Ramsay MacDonald, she will place her social destinies in the hands of Lady Iabel Howard, wife of Sir Ramsay Howard, British ambassador, and daughter of an earl. Iabel has been for some years political hostess for her illustrious father. The fact that he rode to power with a patched coat and a support of labor, has not lessened the social burden which such high office always demands. No doubt, the British system of social and temporary political official hostesses will blend well with our patched coat system of official precedence.

OUT AT BARBON Park in Wellesley there is a piece of work going on which demands a type of patience and skill almost superhuman. For the past five years crews of six to 12 experts have been building up a colossal contour map of the United States. The structure, which is the largest of its kind in the country, covers an area of 300 square feet. It is 43 feet east and west, and 46 feet north and south, and is curved to conform with the globe. Up to date, the work involved has gone beyond $150,000, including a special building to house the maps.

MOUNTAINS, rivers, railroads, towns, towns, manufacturing, agriculture, forest, and desert regions are shown in exact proportion as they would be seen from an airplane in flight. Elevations are built up on a farthest scale of four miles to the foot. The vertical scale is 45 miles to the foot. The entire map is presented on a scale of more than 40 per cent completed, is viewed from a gallery running around the room, or at close quarters from the floor. The outer edges drop 15 inches below the floor on all sides. The huge structure curves upward in the center in exact proportion to the world's contour.

SPECIAL technique had to be developed to build up sectional relief maps from topographical maps and airplane photographs. Heavy cardboard is cut by hand and cemented in layers, over which modelling material is laid by hand and then colored. Dr. Leroy Nichols, construction engineer in charge, is responsible from many of the devices and processes employed in the huge task. He is devoting his entire time to the work.

Loses Part of Foot in Auto Accident
Joseph A. Marks of Inglesworth ave., Everett, was taken to St. Elizabeth's hospital in Lowell following a collision between Marks' motorcycle and an automobile owned by John B. Lewis of Everett St., Lowell.

Surgeons amputated a portion of Marks' foot and reported him to be in a critical condition. Lewis, 40, was injured.

W. E. BUSINESS ACTIVITY AT NEW HIGH LEVEL

Council Meets in Hub Soon; "Maintain Prosperity" to Be Keynote
Assuring that New England has attained a greater business activity than ever before and a new high level of prosperity, President Redfield Proctor of the New England Council today issued a call for the fifth New England Conference, to be in Boston, Nov. 21, 22. The keynote of the meeting will be "Maintenance of Prosperity."

Through the progress made in these four years we have arrived at a new high level of prosperity, and we now must, he said, perfect our organization and reinvigorate our efforts to maintain prosperity," he said.

Since then we have become better acquainted by working together and have learned to speak in terms of New England progress and opportunities. Knowledge of the facts, painstakingly gathered and disseminated in more than three years of ceaseless effort, has given us a new confidence and faith in the future.

"Our strongest institutions are advertising," England as a land of opportunity, and a favored location for sound business enterprise. Former New Englanders, and sons of New Englanders, are now seeking to return to us, and more people and more industries are coming to New England from other states than are leaving New England.

"Our neighbors are aware, as we ourselves are, of a new spirit of enterprise and achievement throughout these six states and in hundreds of our communities."

BEDFORD HOLDS 25th ANNIVERSARY
Bedford was celebrating its 250th anniversary today. Festivities started at sunrise with the ringing of church bells and the sounding of fire whistles. They will close tonight with fireworks.

During the day there was a parade, sports programs and special exercises on the steps of the town hall.

Dr. Alfred Stearns, headmaster of Andover Academy, was the principal speaker at the historical exercises at the hall. Other speakers included Judge Ethel Leane, Lieutenant Governor William S. Youngman, Congressman Edwin J. Robbins, County Commissioner Walter Wardwell and Judge Charles Keyes.

Boston Girl Sued by Wife for Love
Miss Jeanette White of Boston was today named as defendant in an $11,500 allegation of affection suit brought by Mrs. Ethel L. Noll of Worcester.

It is said that Miss White "sometimes known as Denovan," was in blame for the wrecking of the Noll family happiness. The wife had already filed suit against Percy W. Noll of Worcester for divorce. She asks the custody of her one child, a daughter of three. She charges cruelty and non-support, but does not, in the divorce suit, mention the Boston woman.

COMRADES AT FUNERAL OF PATROLMAN

Last Honors Are Paid Officer Hanna of Milton; Detail Escorts Body
Town and police officials crowded St. Agatha's Church, Milton, today at the funeral of Motorcycle Patrolman Francis P. Hanna, known as "Smiling Frank Hanna," of the Milton police.

A solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by the Rev. John J. McCarthy. He was assisted by the Rev. Eugene A. Carney as deacon and the Rev. Eugene A. Dorgan as sub-deacon.

The funeral cortege was escorted from the home in Hildred road, Milton, to the church by a detail of eight patrolmen, led by Police Sergeant John B. Shields.

The pallbearers were, Robert Blake, John Chamberlain, William Coughlin, Frank Lyons, Thomas Calahan, John Dwyer, James Mulhern and James Farrell.

Offer to Resign by South Boston Pastor
The Rev. Howard A. Morton of Farragut rd., South Boston, for eight years pastor at the Phillips Congregational Church in South Boston, surprised his parish by announcing that he had tendered his resignation to the church board.

The congregation needed a new pastor, in his opinion, he said. His contract has six months to run, but may be terminated by mutual consent of the minister and the church board. The board will probably act this week.

Drink From Silver Flask Lands Man in Hospital Bed

Everybody knows that the quality of silver in a flask is no evidence as to the quality of its contents.

Eugene White, 19, of Tremont st., Malden, knows now that flasks sometimes contain poison and that one should show better judgment than accept drink from total strangers.

Two strangers approached White in New York and offered him a drink. He accepted and one of them handed him a bright silver flask.

He took a swallow and awoke in Roosevelt hospital. Doctors informed him he had drunk poison. Malden police today notified his family of his illness.

PROBE BADGE IN MALDEN FIRES
State Officer Edward J. Horigan, investigating the three incendiary fires in Malden early Saturday, was given a badge of the Danvers fire department by Patrolman Eldon King of Malden.

King said he picked up the badge near the building of the Malden Grain Co.

Horigan planned to communicate with Danvers to learn why a member of that department was attending a Malden fire. In addition to the grain company's building, the flames also destroyed the storehouse of the F. A. Melanson Wood Working Co. and the Hammond Lumber Co., all three being on an ice-covered street in East Boston.

CANCELLED INSURANCE RESTORED

State Appeal Board Finds He Is Qualified to Operate Car

A decision in favor of a deaf and dumb automobile operator, whose insurance policy was cancelled by the Preferred Accident Insurance Company of New York, was made today by the State Insurance Appeal Board after a hearing at the State House.

The operator was William H. Hill of 95 Wachusett st., Forest Hills.

Perley A. Goodale, for the company, told the board Hill's policy had been cancelled by several companies and he had an accident and had been convicted in district court for violating an automobile regulation.

"We feel," he said, "that we should not be obliged to stay on this risk because of his record and his physical defects."

Atty. Christopher C. Mitchell, Jr., of Boston, represented Hill. Mitchell argued his client had had a license to operate for six years. The accident in which Hill was involved, Mitchell continued, occurred on an ice-covered street in East Boston and was not serious.

Mitchell described Hill as a competent and cautious driver. If the board had any doubts about this, he said, an investigation would prove that his contention was correct.

"It would be unjust to deprive a man of his insurance," he contended. "The company, I believe, is not warranted in cancelling on the facts, and I urge the board to find for my client."

The board's decision was that the cancellation was "unreasonable," and as a result Hill will continue to drive under coverage by that insurance company.

FAILURE TO CLOSE WHITE SLAVE RESORTS REVEALED

COMPLAINTS OF SOUTHERN HOUSE

Reinstein Case Probe Leads Foley to Disclosure of Wide-Open Traffic

Revelations of police failure to take action against disorderly houses on complaint of citizens were made public today as a result of Diet. Atty. William J. Foley's was against white slave traffic which was started by the slaying of Samuel Reinstein, New York gangster.

The investigation of Asst. Dist. Atty. Frederick T. Doyle has revealed that a certain house in the South End against which several complaints have been made is still flourishing.

The Boston Evening American learned that after headquarters failed to take any action, a prominent attorney, at the suggestion of one of Boston's well known clergymen, interested himself in the case. He eventually induced the proprietors of the resort to move, but the move was only across the same street, and an early morning visit to the district by Doyle and police officers today showed it was still doing business.

YOUNG GIRLS IN HOUSE. According to the American's information, complaint was first made by a respectable family who have been residents of the South End for some years.

They told police of the local division that girls from 15 to 21 years of age were inmates of the house, and that the house was visited by from 25 to 30 men a day.

Obtaining no satisfaction from the police of that division, the complainants visited headquarters on the advice of their pastor, a prominent clergyman, who declared the conditions as they described them were smearing.

At headquarters they were ushered into the office of Asst. Comm. Merrick, secretary to Commissioner Herbert A. Wilson.

OFFICIALS "VASS RUCK." The secretary informed them their complaint should be made to a ranking police official.

They then visited the official specified and were told that the matter was of such importance that it was beyond jurisdiction and should be laid before the commissioner.

Once more the complainants visited headquarters, and were again turned over to the police official who had just taken up the matter personally.

That was the last the complainants heard of the matter as far as the police were concerned. Conditions in the house grew worse instead of better.

Receipt of information that Reinstein was the fourth character to meet a violent death, a gangland "white slave" war, District Attorney Reinstein, and a fight to a finish between his office and the police.

Under the law, the police are required to make investigations of complaints for probable cause.

Private Schools Put Ban on Slang

Editor Boston American: Boston culture has had another twist put in it. This time it is in the training of young minds in private schools against colloquial phrases.

There are to be discarded: "Get by with it," "They say," "Come on," "be a good sport," "Everybody does it," and the like.

STATE'S DEATH RATE JUMPS

The death rate in Massachusetts, which has been steadily decreasing since the port war influenza epidemic, took a sharp upward curve in 1920, according to figures made public by the federal census bureau.

Deaths for the year totaled 31,634, or at the rate of 119.04 for each 4,200,000. In 1919 the rate was 116.18, based on 42,283 deaths, an estimated population of 4,242,000.

Analysis of the figures shows that more than half this increase was due to disease of the heart, where the total jumped from 10,303 to 11,197 and the rate from 24.75 to 25.17.

RETURN TO AIR AFTER VATICAN WEDDINGS

Judge Collins and Bride Are Among Those Arriving on the Alberto

Honored at their wedding within the walls of the Vatican at Rome, Judge Thomas J. Collins of the district court, Springfield, and his bride were among the passengers that departed at Commonwealth pier today from the White Star liner Alberto.

Mrs. Collins was Mrs. Doris R. Adams, also of Springfield. The couple were married by Monsignor Eugene Burke, rector of the American College at Rome.

The wedding was the second of American couples since the Vatican became an independent state. Following the ceremony, Judge and Mrs. Collins made their wedding tour through Germany, France, Switzerland and England.

The Alberto arrived a day behind schedule on account of heavy seas in the Atlantic. She carried 93 cabin, 66 tourist and 13 third-class passengers for the port, many of whom were returning from European vacation.

COBBLER KILLS PERMIT

An order, killing the application for a permit to erect an "oil farm" in East Boston, was introduced in the Council at its regular meeting today by President Timothy Donohue of East Boston. The order was adopted unanimously.

The issue is now squarely up to Mayor Nichols.

At the final hearing on the proposed "oil farm," Representative Bernard Harahan of East Boston declared that, under the General Laws of the City Council was vested with authority to pass on gasoline storage permits.

Should Mayor Nichols approve the order, the authority of the board of street commissioners, to which the development company applied for a permit, would be automatically killed.

If he should refuse to approve the order, however, the law providing that the street commissioners will have the final word.

LEGIONERS OF FOR LOUISVILLE

The first official delegation from Massachusetts to the national convention of the American Legion in Louisville, are on their way.

In the party were State Vice-Commander Stephen C. Garrity of Lowell, Past State Commander William H. Doyle of Malden, and Colvin P. Dolan.

State Adjutant Dennis H. Harvey was scheduled to board the train at Worcester and Harold P. Grafton, secretary of the 1929 convention committee of the legion, was to hop aboard at Springfield.

The headquarters will be the Seabach Hotel, from which the closing stages of the convention will be conducted by the 1930 national convention.

The main Massachusetts delegation will leave tomorrow afternoon from Pier 2, North End, on the Merchants & Miners line.

Commander John J. O'Connell, who will carry a certified check for $2,000 with him to prove to the legionnaires in Louisville that Massachusetts means business in having its delegates to come here next year, will go along with the bus party.

NATY VARIOUS EIGHT IN COURT

Judge James A. Lowell in Federal court today denied a petition for a preliminary injunction brought by Thomas J. Connelly of Grafton at Arlington, seeking to restrain navy yard officials from discharging him as a second-class machinist.

The matter will be heard at a later date. In the meantime Connelly's discharge, scheduled to take place September 18, had been withdrawn and he is on an indefinite furlough without pay.

Connelly claimed he was entitled to discrimination because he is a war veteran.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Chester York argued a court of equity has no right to interfere with Civil Service and that Connelly should appeal to the secretary of the navy.

Dog in Morgue 'Pen' For Hospital Offense

For violating the visiting rules at City Hospital by parking under her sick master's bed on the top floor of the surgery building.

Fluoreti, an otherwise perfectly law-abiding dog, is being kept in the cell of the Southern Mortuary until the recovery of her master.

Fluoreti's master is Raymond Cellane whose home is in Switzerland. Eight years ago in a little Swiss village a man who knew a great deal about dogs gave Fluoreti to Raymond as a present.

When Fluoreti was five years old, Raymond decided to come to America. Just as the train was about to pull out, Raymond was seized by a sudden impulse and he grabbed Fluoreti up in his arms.

Fluoreti packed her into the bottom of his big leather traveling bag. So Fluoreti came to America, too.

CREEK DRAGGED FOR BODY

Information that a man had fallen from a boat and drowned in Chelsea creek, Everett and Chelsea police dragged the creek with grappling hooks in an unsuccessful search for the body.

Aubrey Taylor of Chelsea Parkway, told Patrolman James Frayer that he and another man were crossing the creek in a boat, commonly used by workmen as a ferry.

In the midst of the work they were crossing the creek when Taylor said he did not know the other man. He was in the boat with him. He explained that they both were in the boat at the same time and so started to cross over together.

Auxiliaries of A. O. H. Convene at Miramar

The Indian auxiliaries of the A. O. H. from Whitman, Rockton, Rockland, Plymouth, Kingston and other communities held its annual convention at Island Creek.

The delegates were welcomed by Rev. Robert L. Smith, S. V. D., in charge of the temporary reception of the auxiliaries.

Rev. William Bramble, S. V. D., Father Shuler pointed out the places of interest around the spacious and artistically laid out grounds of Miramar.

He briefly traced the establishing of the Society of the Holy Name in America, describing the first convent, the first priory and Brothers of the Holy Name, and the Eastern houses at Grand, St. and Miramar.

HOOVER'S NAVY POLICY FLOATED BY DOUGLASS

Name of Premier MacDonald Hissed at Commodore Barry Exercises

Nearly 10,000 persons joined in a chorus of catcalls and hisses at the name of Premier Ramsey MacDonald of Great Britain and the British proposals of limitation of naval armament during the exercises on Boston Common marking the 125th anniversary of the death of Commodore John Barry, "Father of the American Navy."

The crowd was aroused to a high state of emotion by Congressman John J. Douglas of East Boston, who attacked President Hoover and his administration for conservative law breaking.

In the course of his address, the congressman paid high tribute to the Boston Evening American for its stand on the question of national defense.

"I know of no more patriotic newspaper in America than the Boston Evening American," he said, "nor do I know of a more brilliant editorial writer than its columnist, Arthur Brisbane."

Former Mayor James M. Curley had poured the way for Douglas for the manner in which they either minimized or ignored altogether, the splendid record of Commodore Barry. Prior to his death, he had used a sword-bayonet to force open a door of the radio room.

Questioned by a policeman as to the program could be broadcast as scheduled, the former mayor told him: "You can tell the Commissioner. Long that the mayor breaks down the door."

"BIG NAVY" SENTIMENT

It was decidedly a Big Navy gathering. The issue of the meeting was Comdr. John Barry. It was an ideal setting for the speech of Douglas.

"I dislike to criticize the President of the United States," he said, "but when the safety of the country is at stake, as a member of the House of Representatives and as a citizen, I am going to criticize him."

Though I am of that race and religion whose members are not allowed to become President of the United States, I will never waver one iota from my position regarding the size of our navy.

He referred to the "British-controlled U. S. Senate" and alluded to the possibility of "the future of America being British."

The peace of the world depends on Kellogg treaties," he continued, "and America and the fulfillment of the policies of George Washington with no foreign alliances, and the maintenance of the peace of defending our shores."

Man Dies Following Rescue From Water

The man who was rescued from drowning after jumping from the Dover st. bridge, Saturday afternoon, and later died at the Boston City Hospital, was identified as McPherson Fraser, a former Boston newspaper man. He was about 50 years of age, single, and had been living in Boston.

The hospital he resided in suffered severely from shock and immersion. A short time later he became unconscious and died.

FIVE SUSPECTS ARE SEIZED IN THEFT CHASE

Caught After Chase Through East Boston Streets; Nathan McCann, 62, Is Victim

After a police chase through East Boston streets and a hand-to-hand battle in the Maverick subway station, five alleged robbers were under arrest today.

The prisoners, including three youths from Roslindale and two from the North End, were charged with beating Nathan McCann, 62, of Roxbury, and taking $13 from him.

The robbery took place near the South Ferry, East Boston, according to police. McCann was on his way to work when set upon by the quartet.

The robbery was witnessed from a car by Street patrolman. Two patrolmen of the East Boston station. They pursued the suspects, capturing three at the point of a gun.

Two of the fugitives pointed to the Maverick subway station. They vaulted the turnstile and ran for a waiting train. Officer King, a Boston Elevated employee, seized and held them after a struggle.

The prisoners gave their names as Charles Bevilacqua of Roslindale st., North End; Joseph A. Lanza of Jackson ave., Roslindale; Charles Calvado of Commercial st., North End; Albert Palumbo of Elm st., Roslindale and Louis Lina of Washington st., Roslindale.

AMON RUYON Says

Campolo Has Big Chance Must Beat Scott Tonight Both Are Champions Garden Wanted Bout

MY favorite dish, which is scrambled heavyweights, will be served at Ebbets Field, in the shadow of Crow Hill over in Flatbush tonight, wind and weather permitting.

The piece de resistance, as we glibly say at the club, will consist of Signor Victorio Campolo, the celebrated box con-tingend, who is putting himself away as a ferocious insect because Herr Max Schmeling, the Black Union of the Rhine, wouldn't meet him professionally, or socially.

It seems to me this Campolo-Scott proposition ought to produce quite a fuss. Philatened Phil may be a bit round-headed, but he is about as nifty a boxer as you will find among the heavyweights.

He can split a hair with his left hand. And Signor Victorio Campolo strikes me as the best puncher that has come along in quite a spell. If he can keep his potato out of the way of Philatened Phil's left spear, Victorio ought to make Phil tolerable ill with his right hand drive to the floating ribs.

TURNING POINT FOR CAMPOLO

AND if Campolo gets past Scott, me hearties, he is going to be the most formidable heavyweight in the land, bar nobody. The only question in my mind about Campy at this time is as to his ability to take a smack. His chin looks mighty precarious hanging loose from that great height, like a ripe rippin about to fall from the twig.

The giant Italian from the Argentine is fast as foot for a big muzzler. His left hand is just fair, but he puts 220 pounds back of his right hand above the body. The punch is always well directed. It is similar to the right hand body punch of Mr. James J. Tunney, formerly Gene, only much harder. It was the punch that devastated old Thomas Henney, the Rock of Down Under.

PHILATENED PHILIP is almost as big as Campolo. The latter measures 6 feet 8½ inches from tip to tip, while Phil is 6 feet 3 inches as the crow flies. There is a difference of about ten pounds in heft between them. Campolo being the heavier.

Philatened Philip's advantage is in the fact that he has had much more experience than Campolo. The latter is making his thirteenth professional fight. He won most of his battles by knockout. He was stopped once, Monte Munn, the elongated Nebraska legislator, who couldn't fight a whole lot, making Campy cry uncle.

However, Philatened Phil has been tipped over several times. The book shows four. He was belted once so speedily by Route Hansen, the Melancholy Dane, in his first appearance in this country that few of the spectators present remember what happened. Thereafter Phil made a couple of good fights here, and showed that the Hansen knockout was a bit of a fluke.

CAMPOLO BETTER THAN FIRPO

THEY call Phil the heavyweight champion of England. Campolo is the champion of South America. They are undoubtedly the best men in their respective countries. I think Campolo right now is a better fighter than old Senior Luis Anjo, Firpo, the Wild Bull of the Pampas, and Firpo got up to a title crack.

The Wild Bull had nothing but a large right hand. He couldn't box, and could move around much. He just waded in and slugged away with his ponderous right duke. In his battle with Dempsey and old Har' Wills the Wild Bull didn't show any too much heart. He went down several times before Dempsey without being hit. Campolo acts like a game fella. True, he hasn't had any real opportunity to display his greatness, because in his two fights here one ended quickly in a foul from Arturo de Kuh, and in the other Campolo's opponent couldn't punch the fat enough to ruffle his hair. It is especially for Campy's promptness in claiming a foul on de Kuh, but maybe he had been coached that way. He certainly stuck to Henney with persistence and courage.

THERE has been such a lot of fuss and bother about this match, that I look for it to draw the largest crowd to Ebbets Field that has yet gladdened the eyes of Signor Humberto Fugazy, the promoter, who has had plenty of tough luck this season, as usual.

It is almost uncanny the way bad luck pursues the pugilistic enterprises of the good Signor Fugazy. He has the imagination to make a great promoter. He digs up corking matches. But something almost invariably happens to handicap his promotions.

He is putting much store by Campolo, although it seems to me Philatened Phil would be just as good a card for him if Phil should win. The match that Fugazy had planned between Scott and Schmeling would have drawn a lot of money. It will draw even more money if Scott beats out Campolo. So the good Signor Humberto ought to come out all right either way.

GARDEN WANTED BOUT

IT was rumored around that the Madison Square Garden Corporation wanted to buy the Campolo-Scott match to back up the Sharkey-Loughran thing, which carries a big guarantee to Sharkey, and I don't blame the boys on Eighth Ave. for trying.

Tau Campolo-Scott bout in behind Sharkey and Loughran would have made a $400,000 gate certain. As the Sharkey-Loughran thing stands now, a $250,000 gate is quite a big potential. Naturally, Fugazy never had any thought of selling his match, because if he did he might as well close up as a promoter. He wouldn't be able to sign fighters for important matches again if they thought he was on the sell.

"TU say one thing for Campolo. He is far and away the most ambitious fighter that has ever visited these shores. For all his limited experience, he asks for no coddling and for no set-ups. He has come here offering to fight the very best opponents that could be secured for him, and he is the only heavyweight of any note who would take on Philatened Phil.

I don't know how good Campy can fight, but you've got to admire him because at least he WILL fight.

Hub Fans to Honor Babe Ruth Tomorrow

HORWEE MAY USE 3 TEAMS

STILL wobbly from the hard scrimmage session on Saturday, the Harvard varsity went into another hard week of scrimmaging today.

Three days of scrimmages are scheduled for the coming week and only the cream of this season's football crop are expected to survive.

The coaches assisting the Cambridge monitor will be asked to concentrate on Team B material in the coming workouts. However, a pretty well satisfied with his first eleven's showing and will now devote some time to building up the reserves.

The Saturday performance assured him that the first team is running along in satisfactory style as concerns learning the fundamentals.

The stiff opposition which the seconds put up against the varsity is feared. However, as much as the smooth working laterals, it showed among other things, that there is a wealth of strong material to be found among the substitutes.

Harvard fans will remember Horwhee's policy of using three teams during a game. Previously a wholesale change of players like this meant only that the opposition was being held by which time.

This year, with material enough for two of the coaches of equal caliber, the trick assumes a new significance.

It is possible for Horwhee to drill three different varsity sides and give each a different type of attack. He could concentrate his passing backs in one team, his runners in another backfield, and the boys who are strong on plunging in another.

Early season predictions for a strong lateral passing outfit were fulfilled in the scrimmage Saturday. Elliot, Dunham and Sauter were the most successful in learning together, and it is certain that these two will be drilled by Eddie Egan to over-vent their earlier successes.

ANDY TRAINING FOR FLOWERS

Andy Callahan, 19-year-old Lawrence boy, is now training at the Wilson's Orangeburg, N. Y., camp for his bout with Bruce Flowers at the Boston Garden, Wednesday, October 2.

This hard hitting Col. promises to develop into one of the biggest money winners in the boxing game and will do most of his training for the Hub bout at Orangeburg, where he came to Boston to finish his preparations for Flowers.

Steam Rollers Win

Providence, Sept. 23. The powerful Providence Steam Roller, making its debut as pro champion, enjoyed a lively workout for the edition of 1929 at the training of the Union A. A. of West Weymouth, Mass., defeating the Red Staters, 37 to 0, in an exhibition game at the Cyclo-drome this afternoon.

B. C. Ready to Open With Catholic Univ.

WITH the knowledge that his squad is in the best of physical condition, Coach Joe McKenney will spend this week putting the finishing touches on his 1929 Boston College grid machine, which will roll onto Fenway Park next Saturday for the first collision of the fall with Catholic University.

Saturday's war with the freshman outfit, which was won by the varsity by a score of 27 to 0, showed McKenney that his boys were in shape but that the team needs a lot of polishing in the fine points before it will be ready to make an auspicious opening against the opponents from the Capitol City.

The Eagles still show a tendency toward being over-anxious. Coach McKenney had to impose frequent penalties on the varsity for offside. If this error, though it is a minor one, isn't checked before the C. U. game, the Eagles may lose as much ground as they'll gain.

Fumbles, too, have been very numerous. McKenney will have his boys handling the ball plenty this week to avoid dropping the unit, which wouldn't help it to pile up a score on their opponents.

At the start of the week the Boston College team lines up with John Dixon and Charles Murphy, ends; Jack Young and Henry "Honus" Jackson, Al Morelli and Jack Maloney, guards; Andy Anderson, center; Paddy Cronin, quarterback; Joe Miley and Johnny Mark, halfbacks, and Joe Shea, fullback.

B. U. PREPARES FOR ARMY GAME

With only four more days left in which to prepare Boston University's football team for the opening game with West Point Saturday, Coach Reggie Brown and Ed Robinson will be forced to drive their charges at top speed every day in order to bring the team around a tip top shape for the Army duel.

Starting on only one daily session will be held. As the squad must embark for West Point Friday morning, no practices can be held on Sunday. In order to smooth over several flaws both in attack and defense, and to perfect some new plays, the entire team may be held at spring the day after the game.

A Captain Timmerman will be the Army's star. He is determined to make his debut for last year's 250 yards. Lack of reserves was one of the team's downfall last year.

"SPIT" is a horrid word But it's worse on the end of your cigar

Take no chances—smoke certified Cremo Cigars

Are you sure that your cigar is sanitary? Are you sure that it wasn't made in one of those filthy cigar shops which most of us have seen... where the man in the window rolled the leaves with dirty fingers and spit on the ends?

Why take chances when Certified Cremo offers you the finest cigar enjoyment plus the sanitary cleanliness of certified foods?

Over $7,000,000 was spent in perfecting the method of manufacture which puts Certified Cremo miles ahead in sanitary goodness. Every tobacco leaf entering the clean, sunny Certified Cremo factories is scientifically treated by U. S. Government approved methods. And its purity is safeguarded along every step of the way by amazing inventions that fill, wrap and tip the cigars without the menace of spit!

Certified Cremo leaves are the choicest, tenderest that the crop affords, all ripe and mellow. Each leaf goes through a slow, expensive maturing process that develops the fullest flavor and mildness.

There isn't a bit of scrap in Certified Cremo... not a trace of floor sweepings. All long filler... all fresh, tender leaves... and topped off with the finest imported Sumatra wrapper. Crush-proof... immaculate... foil-wrapped.

Certified For Your Protection by Alfred W. McCann D.Lit., A.B., LL.D., United Pure Food Export, Long Service in creation for pure foods and sanitary protection.

"I certify Cremo is sanitary and clean."

"Most pleasant when the body through the mouth... but I emphatically say about as much of Cremo as you make this risk. Because the method of manufacturing used by Cremo is the most perfect and of purity that present science gives to us."

RAWSON AND MILLS IN RUBBER BOAT AT ARENA TONIGHT

CUB MANAGER AND PITCHERS WHO FACE MACKMEN IN SERIES

LOCAL BOXER

SAVED TO 8 FAVORITE

Tonight's Card at Arena

TEN ROUNDS
Big Boy Rawson, Dorchester, vs. Bob Mills, Hill, N. H.

EIGHT ROUNDS
Tony Shucco, North End, vs. Mickey Sears, East Boston.

FOUR ROUNDS
Tom McNeely, Cambridge, vs. Dan Reagan, Gaiter.
Leslie Baker, Watertown, vs. Bill Kimball, Roxbury.
Jack Moulton, Roxbury, vs. Jerry Brandt, Medford.
Tony Salles, Watertown, vs. Willie DeAngelis, North End.

First bout, 8 o'clock; main bout, 10 o'clock.

BIG BOY RAWSON and BOB MILLS will settle one of the most bitter ring rivalries since Sharkey and Maloney settled accounts, when they clash tonight in the scheduled 10-round feature bout at the Arena.

Rawson, because of his showing against Mills some weeks ago, rules a 10 to 8 favorite to win, but Mills once more will have the advantages of height, weight, reach and experience.

The heavyweight rivals have each scored a sensational knockout victory over the other, Mills winning the first fight in the sixth round and Rawson the return engagement in four.

Both battles were filled with savage kicking and since both Rawson and Mills depend entirely on punch, tonight's fray is expected to be just as sensational and just as hard-fought.

Both boxers are in great physical condition. The New Hampshire champion is always hard on his feet and Rawson will report in the best shape of his career.

TONY SHUCCO, North End Italian, and Mickey Sears of East Boston will mingle in the eight-round semi-final bout. Shucco has turned in 27 consecutive victories, including wins over Larry Brigola and Willie Ozer, and is scheduled for a match with Al Mello of the New England heavyweight title.

Leslie Baker of Watertown, who won the Francis Xavier Cup in two rounds at the Garden Friday night, will meet another heavy puncher in Young Madson of Somersworth, N. H., in a six-rounder, and in another six-rounder, McNeely of Weymouth will battle Nick McDonald, the Lexington Minute Man.

IN the four-rounders, Leslie Baker of Watertown, former amateur heavyweight king, will be paired with Al Kimball of Roxbury. Jack Moulton, Roxbury, heavyweight, with Jerry Brandt of Medford; Dan Reagan of Gaiter, former England amateur heavyweight champion, with Dan Reagan of Gaiter; and Willie DeAngelis of the North End with Tony Salles of Watertown.

Providence Speeds Up for Rutgers

Providence, Sept. 25.—The final drive for the opening game will be started at Providence College today when Coach Archie Coleman puts his charges through the preliminary preparation work. Rutgers game at New Brunswick, N. J., Saturday.

In addition, a punched away at the light bag for three sessions, and skipped ropes for four frames. Dan Reagan, former England amateur heavyweight champion, and Arthur Flynn are on my staff of sparring partners. Emanuel has also fought Loughran twice. "These two men will be of value to me in the closing days of my training."

Brighton K. of C. to Hold Field Day

Brighton Council, No. 421, Knights of Columbus, will hold a field day at Rogers Park, Brighton, next Saturday. The event will go to a hospital fund.

The annual road race is slated here. This will be a handicap race under the sanction of the A. A. U. to be run through the prime park streets of Brighton and will be a very important feature of the day. The winners of the various races will be awarded the winner. The James M. Curley trophy will be given to the winner of the mile race. Entry blanks may be secured by writing Pierce H. Healey, 10 Loughran rd., Brighton.

Sharkey Will Weigh 193 for Loughran

ORANGEBURG, N. Y., Sept. 25.—When I finished my work out at Gus Wilson's camp here today, Jimmy Bronson, who was one of Gene Tunney's chief advisers, came into my dressing room and told me he thought I was at the peak of form and ready for my 15-round battle with Tommy Loughran, which will be staged at the Yankee Stadium Thursday night.

"I was impressed by the way you boxed while you had plenty of power behind your punches," Bronson told me. "I always liked your style of boxing and tipped Tunney after you licked Harry Wills that you were the only heavyweight in sight who had a chance of defeating him. I am sorry you never got a shot at the title while Tunney was champion as you two would have made a great fight."

"Dempsy had a wide open style which made him easy for Gene. A moving, bobbing boxer like you would have given the former a real good deal of trouble."

With Bronson looking on, I stepped on the scales and weighed 194½ pounds. This means I am only 1½ pounds heavier than when I stepped into action against Louie Nemes of Halifax, who was one of Gene Tunney's chief advisers, came into my dressing room and told me he thought I was at the peak of form and ready for my 15-round battle with Tommy Loughran, which will be staged at the Yankee Stadium Thursday night.

More than 1000 persons were jammed into the gym, while as many more were outside. I would have liked to have worked in the outdoor ring so as to have given everybody an opportunity to see me, but the weather was too cold.

BOXED two rounds with Jack Saunders. I devoted my time to sharpening up my punches and speeding up on my boxing. In addition, I punched away at the light bag for three sessions, and skipped ropes for four frames.

My staff of sparring partners and other experienced handlers of boxers who visited me, I am physically fit to take the most important ring test of my career.

Besides Gagon and Saunders, I intend to give every bit of my fighting ability on Thursday night in an effort to score a decisive victory.

I plan to use a terrific pace from the start and am confident I shall win by a knockout.

WOODSIES HAVE WEAK ATTACK

The Woodies stepped both points to Fall River Saturday, but better luck against New Bedford yesterday, dividing the points in a scoreless tie.

In both contests it was the weak team of the attack which kept the Hub eleven from taking the lead in the American League race.

The defeat at the hands of the Marksmen was a bitter pill to swallow for the locals had it all figured out to take the lead in the race.

Fall River, however, was the better eleven.

The Marksmen are leading the league as a result of their victory, which was their third over the Hub eleven this season. Of the four games the locals have lost to the Marksmen are credited with being responsible for three of them.

Young Bert Patenaude, Jimmy and Bob McCarty, were the stars of the champions and the playing of this trio was what beat the Woodies.

Chi Pro Eleven Starts Season Well

Chicago, Sept. 25 (TNS)—The Chicago Bears football team resumed work for their second game of 1935 after opening the professional season at Madison, Wis., yesterday by defeating Herb Jennings' Minnneapolis Marines, 19 to 6.

MR. BOSTON BY JACK CONWAY

ORANGEBURG, N. Y., Sept. 25.—"Dumb Dan Morgan has been silenced at last," said Mr. Boston today. "I asked him who would win the Sharkey-Loughran bout and he went into deep thought. It was the first time Morgan has ever passed up an opportunity to break into print."

"Morgan didn't hesitate to state that Armand Ennauld will trounce Dan Maloney in the 10-round semifinal, but he refused to venture a pick on the feature bout."

"It is seldom that a big heavyweight bout has the so-called pickers as much up in the air. On Broadway there is a much doubt about the probable winner that the boys have to take the rubber off their bank rolls."

"I bumped into Damon Runyon, noted sports writer, the other night at the Forest Hotel. When asked to name the weighting ability, 7 in, has had some 150 fights and has always displayed good judgment in the fight ring. He has one of those Dempsey heads and won't give an inch of ground to anybody, while he is a brilliant boxer."

"If Loughran could punch, he would be one of the greatest ring stars of all time. But he cannot knock your hat off. So Sharkey can afford to take chances Thursday night. He won't have to worry about getting tipped over."

"Even Stirling punches twice as hard as Loughran, while Dempsey's easiest punch is harder than what Sharkey can afford to parade to show quarters and blaze away with both hands."

"MOST of his bouts, Loughran has made a habit of making a statement as to just as he wanted to win. And he invariably made them look bad. He looked particularly good in his last bout, which was against Jimmy Braddock. He toyed with the Jersey kid, but then Sharkey is head and shoulders above anybody Loughran has so far met as class."

LOUGHAN has got cut up in all his recent bouts. None of his opponents, however, were able to get battering away at any of the wounds they opened on Tommy's face. They were not clever enough for that. If a skilled big fellow like Sharkey opens any wounds on Loughran at all, he will paint him red. Jack can't punch with his sharpshooting left hand."

PERE Finn, 12 to 0. Perse Marquette football team of South Boston defeated the Quincy Braves by a 12 to 0 score at the Perse stadium, scored a touchdown in the first period.

A poor pun. By Gavin, Quincy Suback, in the fourth period gave the Perse their second tally.

HUBBARD HONOR RUTH

A beautiful silver loving cup this year. The committee, headed by John J. Stastel, has been working quietly but earnestly for a long while and expects the affair to be one of the most successful ever held in honor of the hummer king.

The state premises to bid one or more of the drives which have been famous to show his appreciation. He has been in very good physical condition this year but that hasn't affected his hitting, much. He has made 16 homers to date, which is six more than his career total, and he will probably add to his total while in the Hub. He has always been very successful in knocking the ball out of the confines at the Fenway, which isn't surprising for it was there that he started his illustrious career.

Two other of the nation, will also be feted on their arrival. Tony Lazzeri and Mark Koenig will join the Winthrop Lodge of Elks at a party, tomorrow night, which will be attended by all the Sox and Yanks who are members of the order.

THE lanks are disappointed naturally, over being better out for the pennant but they haven't stopped trying to win ball games just because the race is over.

They haven't seemed nearly as hard as ever for every contest. The Sox, then, men thought they haven't anything to fight for, so there ought to be plenty of it, baseball on tap at the Fenway in the next two afternoon.

THE natives closed their final home stand against the West by dropping a 7 to 4 verdict to the Indians in a battle which went to hard luck in the early stages of the campaign they will be very anxious to the first division today instead of being in the cellar.

Their spirit has now extended over 50 games. That takes it out of the "lunk" in "lunk" and gives a good ground for the belief that the team will go some place another season.

The domestic help problem is solved by taking a kitchen maid and the best best advertised daily in the New York edition.

RICHARDS IS FAVORED IN 'PRO TENNIS

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (AP)—An international field featuring 41 will start play today for the national professional lawn tennis championship at Forest Hills.

Vicent Richards, holder of the title for the last two years, won a joint victory with Karel Kožmich of Czechoslovakia, to win their championship.

Richards was seeded at the top of the upper half of the draw while Kožmich at the top of the lower half.

Others seeded were Howard O'Neil, Washington, D. C.; J. Basmajian, New York; John Van Nostrand Club; Warren L. Kruger, New York; George W. H. Wood, Fairview Country Club, Philadelphia; and Wallace F. Johnston of Philadelphia.

Richards' first match was against the Polish-born Topoletzky of Western Golf Club, Manhattan.

Other matches were between Nettle, Morris county Golf Club, New Jersey;

SCOT CLASH

New York, Sept. 23—Phil Scott, of England, and Victorio Campolo, of the Argentine, meet in a 10-round bout tonight at Ebbets Field.

Campolo, some six and a half feet tall, has attracted a great following as a result of his recent triumph over Tom Meeney.

His rival, Scott, is one of the finest boxers among the heavyweights. Boxing experts believe the Englishman has a good chance of outpunching his giganulo South American foe provided he can keep somewhat fragile jaw out of Campolo's reach.
